USES

The Nelson Family Pavilion is designed to provide a wide range of uses from small intimate gatherings to major concerts and weekend festivals. It is anticipated the variety of programs and events will bring over 100,000 visitors to the area each year. The facility will host existing events, and plans are underway to launch a music series featuring local, regional, national, and international artists. The venue is a perfect setting for year-round activities such as art shows, markets, and the new holiday light show.
